

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—The state government's outstanding debt will reach a new high in mid-February as a result of bond and warrant sales necessary to maintain existing functions.

The state's bonded indebtedness now amounting to $179,024,50, will be increased by another $5,000,000 when that amount of veterans' bonds are sold to continue the home and farm loan program.

To the existing $49,500,000 of outstanding registered warrants will be added $2,000,000 for unemployment relief during the month, and another $500,000 for various other payments to bring the whole debt for all funds up to $236,000,000, according to figures of the state controller's office.

For the first time in more than a year and a half, California gubernatorial mansion again is the home of the state's chief executive.

Following his marriage to Mrs. Jessie Stewart Lipsey of Long Beach, Gov. Frank F. Merriam returned here to occupy the ancient mansion for the first time during his administration.

The Merriams will be "at home" to friends after March 1.

Final selection of a site for a new state prison in southern California still is well in the future. Finance Director A. E. Stockburger, chairman of a special commission to select a location, said that 100 offers of sites had been made and that no selection would be announced until all proposals had been investigated.

The legislature provided $750,000 for purchase of a site, anticipating federal aid for actual construction of the prison.

Start of Gov. Merriam's tax conference saw few legislators at the capitol.

In answer to objections of lawmakers that they had not been invited to the parley, the governor said that there wasn't room for them and that the conference was called primarily to get the views of representatives of business, industry, agriculture and labor rather than those of the legislators.

Passage of the new civil service amendment for state workers apparently was "only the beginning."

The latest controversy is raging around the fact that out of 200 applicants who passed written tests for liquor administrator, only 25 were certified after the oral examination had been given.

Objections also were voiced against members of the personnel board, final board of appeal for state workers, sat in as a part of the oral examination board.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BAR TRANSIENTS

Squad of Los Angeles Police Arrive on Monday In An Attempt To Stop All Transients From Entering State. Men Deputized by Sheriff Tobiasen.

Prepared to launch the Los Angeles city program of keeping transients out of California, a squad of eight metropolitan policemen under Sergeant Douglas arrived in Truckee on Monday and started to work the Southern Pacific trains on Wednesday. Upon the arrival of trains in the freight yards, all transients have been taken from the trains and questioned. No attempt has been made to place them under arrest. Harry Stevens was taken from a freight train on Wednesday and when questioned stated he was on his way to Los Angeles. He did not protest when he was told he could not continue and was perfectly willing to travel east.

Sheriff Carl Tobiasen has deputized all of these men.

The residents of Truckee are not taking kindly to the idea of Los Angeles sending officers into this region. The Lions Club went on record at their meeting on Wednesday evening protesting this movement. The idea of stopping transients from coming into the state who may be placed on relief rolls is excellent many agree, but the methods being used by Los Angeles in attempting to stop this does not have the approval of many people.

Truckee has been the mecca for newspaper reporters, and news reel men since Monday who are all watching developments.

No attempt has been made by the officers to stop anyone traveling over the highway as yet. Chief Cato of the Highway Patrol has expressed himself as not in favor of this program of Los Angeles. Other state officials recalled that an attempt to block transients through adoption of a state law had been turned down by the legislature and branded it as entirely unconstitutional.

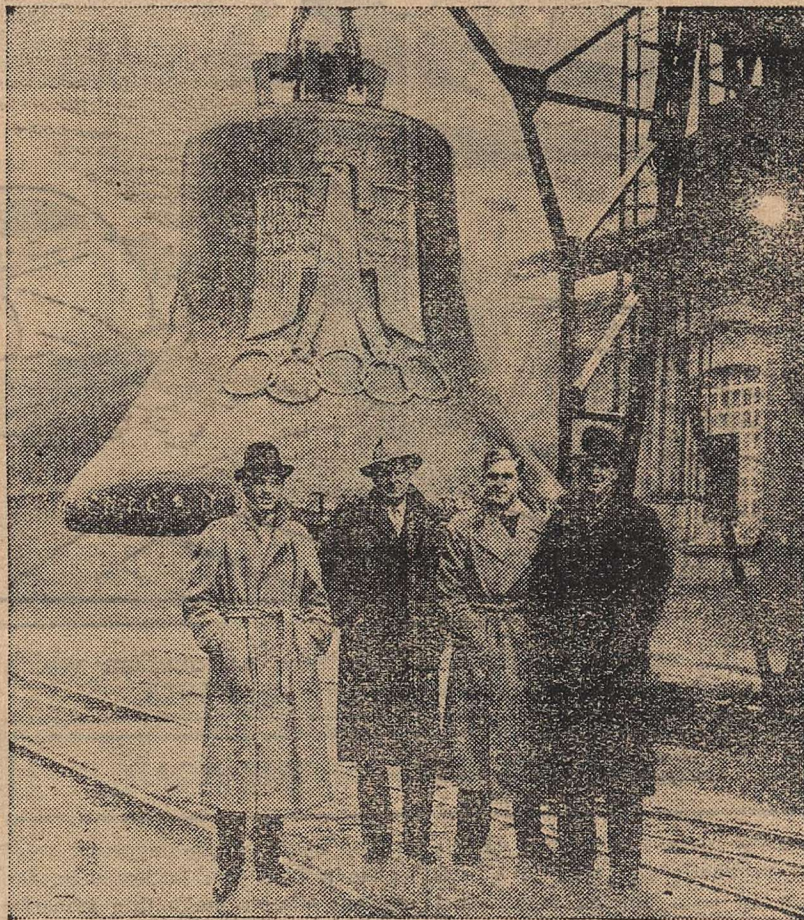

Local officers in town have expressed themselves as not in sympathy with the program and will not lend their support to it. Constable Wm. Botcher has stated that he would not approve of feeding anyone arrested and placed in the local jail. Justice of Peace Smith would insist upon concrete proof that anyone arrested was a threat against public safety or peace before he would convict them.

Sheriff Tobiasen arrived from Nevada City this morning to look over the situation. In a statement to the Sierra Sun he stated that he deputized the eight Los Angeles police men after a conference with District Attorney Stoll and felt that he was cooperating with a movement that would be of advantage to the people of Nevada County. He stated that in the west end of the county there was considerable difficulty being experienced with enforcing the law among the transients and this was one way to stop it. He also stated that while he had been receiving criticism from the people of Truckee for deputizing the Los Angeles police men, his co-operation with this program had brought him commendation from the west end of the county. Regarding any law suits that might arise from false arrests, Sheriff Tobiasen stated that every precaution was being taken to keep within the law. No one who could show that he was capable of earning a living and intended to do so was being held. Sheriff Tobiasen was of the opinion that within a short time the transients would learn that California was not welcoming them and would stay away from the state.

At the card party Mrs. W. F. Wilkie and Merle L. Jennings won first prize awards and Mrs. A. Mahne and P. R. Nelson received consolation prizes. Mrs. Karl Kiehofer and Mrs. T. E. Pinckney each won a box of homemade candy.

Mr. Kneis expressed his appreciation for all who aided in making the dance and card party a success.

Serving on Mr. Kneis' committee were R. C. Gregory, G. E. Hofman, Ben Tonini, Fred Kohler, E. J. Campbell, Jr., Fred Kuss, Tom Doley, Mrs. R. A. Tonini, Mrs. P. R. Nelson, Mrs. Henry Talcott, Mrs. Elizabeth Bavier, Mrs. Lotta Bryant, and Ms. Jennie Canady.

New Bids Called For School Building

The trustees of the Truckee Elementary School District have this week called for new bids for the erection of a building for the grammar school on Church Street. New plans have been prepared, and many changes have been made in the plans that a building may be erected within the $36,727 which has been allotted for this building.

All bids must be in by February 21st. The WPA recently granted the school board an extension of time until February 23rd to re-advertise for bids for the school building.

Truckee River Agreement Is Still Being Studied

That the Truckee river agreement and final decree, disposing of the Truckee river adjudication suit, will eventually be approved by the federal government, was indicated by a telegram received by R. M. Price, attorney for the Washoe County Water Conservation District, from Senator Pittman. The telegram follows:

"R. F. Walters, now acting commissioner of reclamation and General Counsel Patrick stated that the decree had been turned over to their western attorney and chief engineer in Nevada to check up on descriptions, names, etc., that certain typographical corrections of such nature had to be made. They said there had been other delays in the matter by reason of the illness of Doctor Mead, who had personal charge."

"The main thing in which you are interested is that both of them promised unequivocally to have the decree approved and forwarded for filing as expeditiously as conditions would permit. Patrick wanted decree changed with regard to the liability for operation of gates at Tahoe dam, according to his former contention, but yielded. I am confident Walters will expedite matter."

The agreement and form of decree have been approved by the directors of the two irrigation districts, the Sierra Pacific Power Company and Lake Tahoe interests and parts of it, including the highly controversial Lake Tahoe level question, was approved several months ago by Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

The complete agreement and final decree were sent to Washington last October for approval of the interior department, which is necessary before submitting them to the water users of the two districts for their approval at an election. Final approval by all parties will clear the way for the construction of the upstream storage reservoir in the Little Truckee river canyon, a million dollar project, which will be paid for by Washoe county and the water users of the Truckee meadows.

Tom Doley Given Garbage Collection Contract

The Truckee Sanitary District have given the contract for garbage collection for the town to Tom Doley, as James Melver Jr., who bid in this contract has asked to be released. Doley will take over the work at once.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pace have returned from a business trip to San Francisco.

COLD WAVE FOLLOWS SNOW STORM

Clear weather, with greatly lowered temperatures, prevailed in this region following the week end snow storm which left twenty-four inches of new snow. There is now a total depth of thirty inches of snow in Truckee. The storm started late Friday night continuing all day Saturday and until early Sunday morning.

The snow was particularly welcomed at this time as there has been scarcely enough snow to carry on the winter sports. With the new snowfall, plenty of snow is assured for the remainder of the season.

Water content of the snow was moderately heavy. According to District Ranger H. I. Snider, precipitation for the storm period measured 2.18 inches. The month of January had a precipitation of 9.38 inches. Total precipitation from September 1 to January 31 was 15.36, which is 1.89 inches above normal.

FIRST AID CLASS STARTED MONDAY

The first meeting of the newly formed first aid class was held on Monday evening in the office of Dr. J. H. Bernard with Frank Gaennie as instructor.

The classes are sponsored by the National Red Cross and the members of the class will qualify for work in the first aid stations now being established by this organization in all parts of California. This is a national movement of the Red Cross and eventually it is expected to have about 18,000 first aid stations throughout the state.

The course will consist of ten lessons of one and one-half hours each. It will be necessary for a person to have fifteen hours instruction in first aid before they will be qualified to take the Red Cross examination. Upon completion of the course of instruction under Mr. Gaennie, who is an authorized Red Cross instructor, an examination will be given by the Red Cross.

Tentative plans call for first aid stations at the Checking Station west of Truckee, Soda Springs and Henry's Garage at Tahoe City. The Nevada City Chapter of the Red Cross will install about $20 worth of first aid equipment and maintain this equipment at the various stations in the county.

The persons at these stations will be qualified to render first aid to injured persons, whether the injuries are received on highway accidents or other manner.

Any person may take this instruction and Mr. Gaennie states the class is still open for new members. The class will be held each Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the office of Dr. J. H. Bernard on Main Street.

Those who are enrolled in the class are: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laity, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Leitch, V. V. Gilman, N. F. Doley, Carl Smith, Bill Kocher, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry, Mrs. Stella Watson, Mrs. Salisbury and Denis Jones of Soda Springs.

ILLITERATE AMERICANS

Despite all that has been attempted since the World War to wipe out illiteracy in this country, from 2 to 6 per cent of boys enrolling in CCC units have been unable to read or write.

Nearly 80 per cent of these young men were under 25 years of age. Most of them were American born. Many come from rural areas and small towns. One-fifth of them had no schooling whatever before coming to camp. Nearly 70 per cent had less than four years of schooling.

Many of these boys enrolled in the camp educational programs, with the result that between June 30, 1934 and June 30, 1935 more than 4,000 young fellows learned to read and write.

There are many countries with far higher percentages of illiteracy than ours, but that hardly excuses the existence of so much illiteracy in a nation supposedly believing in public education and providing good public schools. There are sections, however, where American children have either none at all or the most limited school opportunity. Something must be done about this.

MIGRATORY FARMING

Thomas Campbell, former Montana "wheat king" and later agricultural consultant to the Soviet Government, announces that he may become a traveling farmer. His idea is to follow the seasons with his tractors, plows, harvesting machines and workers. He will grow wheat in summer in Montana and flax in winter in California.

"When the Department of Agriculture," he explains, "found in India a flax which will grow in the winter time in the Imperial and San Joaquin Valleys, it occurred to me here was an opportunity to make grain raising a year-round affair. Why shouldn't the boss move with his men as they strike out for warmer climes when winter settles down on the northern front? At any rate, I decided to give it a trial, in a small way at first."

Mr. Campbell has not yet purchased any land or moved any men or equipment. He will have to try out his experiment several years before its practicability will be shown.

He certainly had a provocative idea, however. With early and heavy snowfalls all through the northern part of the United States, many people are wishing they could go south for the winter. Few of them, it must be admitted, have had such a plan as Mr. Campbell's. Their idea has been chiefly a winter vacation, which is difficult to achieve. A seasonal occupation might solve the problem.

KNOW YOUR POPULATION

Do you know the population of your city?

Most of us have taken at their face value the yearly estimates of public officials and other population estimators during those periods between decades when the official federal census is recorded.

Yet it is a ten to one wager that these yearly estimates have not been correct—have, as a matter of fact, been too low.

A recent issue of the California Tax Digest points out that the common practice of these estimators is to base their figures on local elementary school enrollment. School enrollment in many parts of California is decreasing because the birth rate is decreasing, but this does not necessarily mean that the population is also on the decline.

The Digest has worked out a correction factor from birth rate statistics which may be used to set right these population estimates based on school enrollment. It might be a good idea for the estimators to use this device.

A man likes to know with reasonable accuracy, the population of his city. Above all things, he does not want to go about believing it to be lower than it actually is.

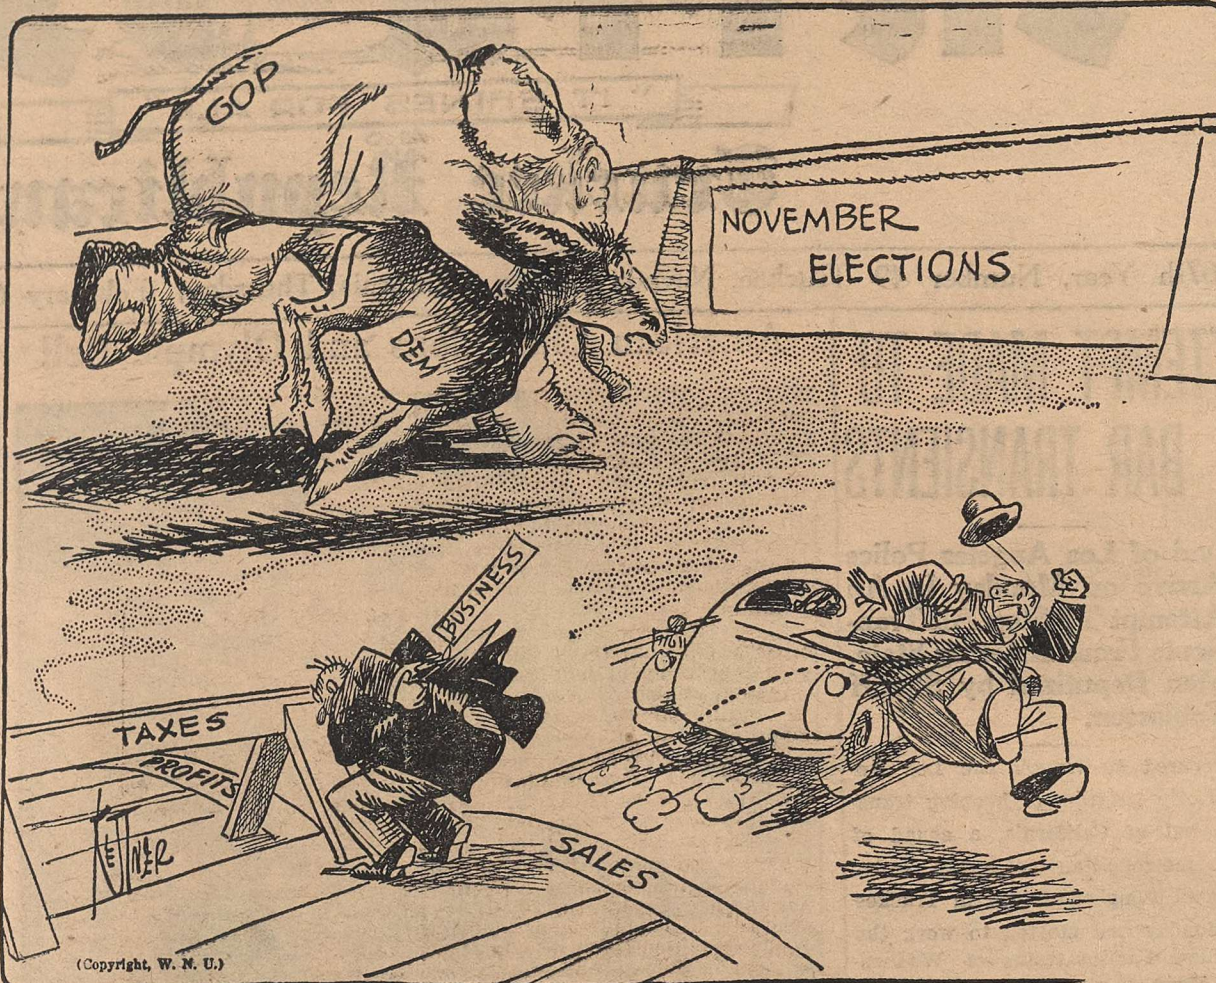

EYE-OPENING TRAVEL

The reports of tourist gains in different parts of the country begin to grow monotonous. Some sections have their big tourist rush in one season, some in others, but no section seems to be neglected any more. And hardly any foreign country is neglected.

It is true that travel in Europe declines a bit when war threatens. The present situation in Ethiopia has caused cancellation of many winter cruises in that part of the world. But it only means more travel elsewhere.

All this getting about ought to be a good thing for everybody, whether it makes the traveler more pleased with his homeland or whether it opens his eyes to the problems and virtues of other lands and people. It ought to work slowly but certainly against the intense nationalism which has spread so widely and dangerously since 1918.

AROUND THE BEND OF THE ROAD

In Oregon, in the shadow of the giant redwoods, the road is a soft ribbon of red, winding into forest shadows lit by sun shafts dim with gold. In Arizona, the roads are friendly threads leading through fantastic desert wastes where wind-hollowed rocks are tumbled down into the endless silence. In Arizona, one road leads at last to the Grand Canyon at dusk, where a sea of mysterious blue rises and floats, dimming the red and yellow and purple of the vast pageantry of stone.

In New England, snow makes majestic a modest road in the shadow of tall pines. In New England, the neighborly walls run beside the roads, and sometimes let fall a stone like a word of greeting! In Colorado, roads wind up walls of rock, and follow the icy mountain streams, where wide torrents rush with a murmuring thunder. In Victoria, bicycle paths are bright with flowers and clean with strong, white gravel.

At Carmel, colored tiles made by artists wind under cypress trees beside a blue sea. In Bermuda, the carriage wheels make thin traceries on coral roadways where bloom hedges of oleander and hibiscus—where silken palmettos sway in the tropic wind. In California, pepper trees drop red berries on the broad highways—the acacia shakes a thousand golden feather balls, and the blue jacaranda trees, like great bouquets, between the stately avenues of palms, salute the traveler of the roads.

Roads—They stretch to the four corners of our Western world, fashioned of sand and pine needles, and concrete, and beaten earth—roads blasted from rock, carved from coral, welded from metal, and pressed from the long-leaved Southern pine. Roads cut from stone, hung high above the sea, threading quiet valleys, companion to the skies. Roads—They call to swift wheels and gay hearts, for beauty and adventure and mystery and joy lie somewhere around the bend of the road.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—

"Legalized spoils system" is the name some state officials have given the civil service setup as the result of several developments during the past year when a previously unimportant division began attracting public interest.

The latest flareup caused by personnel board activities occurred when it became known that of 200 persons who passed the written examination for supervising liquor officers, only 25 were classified on the civil service waiting list. The other 175 were flunked by the oral examining board.

Serving as majority members of the board were E. H. Christian and Arthur Brown, Merriam-appointed members of the personnel group. This was the first time on record that two personnel board members acted on the oral examining board. Ordinarily, one examiner is an official of the department in which the jobs are offered.

Opponents of the new civil service system insist that as it now operates it merely is a glorified spoils system. To support their belief, they point to the reports of this and other oral examinations wherein persons high on the list were eliminated, possibly to make room for political favorites whose grades were lower.

Theoretically, civil service examinations are given for the purpose of selecting the best persons for jobs. The oral tests permit personnel officials and department heads to study appearance, character and ability of those successful enough to pass the written examination. Final classification is based upon the grades received both in the written and oral examinations.

Although the personnel division guarded closely the public record lists showing results of the liquor supervisor examination, it was learned that a person who ranked about 75th on the written test landed second in the final classification because of a very high oral grade; that the 60th on the list was placed among the first six; that 15 or 20 who had the best grades in the written were flunked by the oral board.

It was understood some of those whose grades were high were eliminated because they previously had been discharged from the liquor division of the equalization board "for unsatisfactory service." In their cases, it was not considered advisable to reinstate them in favored position.

As to the flunking of 175, William Brownrigg, executive officer of the personnel division, said it was not unusual to trim a waiting list to that extent when only three or four positions were open.

Puzzling to observers and unexpected by officials were these sidelights:

The board of equalization requested the personnel board to permit George Stout, chief of the liquor division, to sit as a member of the oral examining board, and never received a reply.

Ray Edgar, Southern California board member, was invited to serve on the oral board but declined. Among those flunked was William A. Smith, former secretary to the late Gov. James Rolph, Jr.; secretary for several months to Governor Merriam; acting liquor chief, Sacramento district. His ouster by Merriam appointees was said not to have met the approval of the governor.

This was the first time, in the knowledge of veteran officials, that a department's request to be represented on the oral board was ignored.

Numerous legislators objected because they were not invited to attend the governor's statewide tax conference, Merriam explained:

"There wouldn't be room for all the legislators."

In reply to Assemblyman Jesse Mayo's accusation that the delegates were "hand picked" and not representative of the people, and that Merriam planned the conference to further his ambitions to move to Washington, the governor directed the sharpest barb he has fired this winter:

"He wasn't invited—The fact that the delegates will be representative may account for my attitude toward Mr. Mayo."

1936 WILL BE VERY ACTIVE POLITICAL YEAR

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30 —(UP)—Kept well in practice by a long series of special and regular gubernatorial elections during the past three years, California will have an intensive workout at the polls this year.

There will be three elections—in May, August and November—for the purpose of: 1—selecting delegates to the national political conventions in June; 2—eliminating all candidates except the most popular in each party; 3—electing national, state and local officials.

First off, every Californian of voting age must register anew this year if he wishes to participate in the elections. New registration lists will be prepared. In order to be eligible to vote, the individual must have lived in the state one year, in the county 90 days and in the precinct 40 days.

Registration for the May primary closes March 26. Anyone registering before then may participate in all the elections, provided he does not change his address. Registration for the August primary and November general elections close July 16 and September 24, respectively.

At the May 5 primary, the only issue to be decided will be the selection of delegates to the republican and democratic conventions.

On August 25, however, the voters will cast their choice—along party lines—for United States congressmen, state senators and assemblymen, and superior judges, together with whatever local contests appear on the ballot.

At the general election November 3, the victors in the August primary will compete for the final honors. The president of the United States, twenty congressmen, 20 state senators from odd numbered districts, and 80 state assemblymen will be chosen, and the electorate will pass upon a score of propositions.

The personnel of California's delegation to congress, and of the 1937 state legislature may be radically changed as a result of the November election.

Protective Associations Are New Liquor Rackets

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—A warning to liquor licensees against joining "protective associations" has been issued by the state board of equalization in which it was pointed out that many such organizations were little more than "rackets."

"There are some associations in this state which are organized on a legitimate basis, and perform a real service," the warning stated. "Too many of these organizations, however, are operated solely for the purpose of obtaining as much money as they can from the licensees without giving anything in return except vague promises.

"Our attention has been called to certain instances which definitely disprove the claims of these organizations that membership is purely voluntary. We are advised that in some cases solicitors have actually threatened dealers with the loss of their liquor licenses if they do not become members."

The board pointed out that it is prepared to cooperate with license holders by giving them all of the services which are offered as an inducement to join some of the associations.

Since 1920 there have been over 15,000 bank failures in this country.

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By Swanee

Entrants of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club who participated in the Mt. Shasta Sanctioned ski meet held at McCloud over last Saturday and Sunday returned home with a goodly share of the victor's spoils. The Shasta Snowmen have made an enviable reputation for themselves as exceptionally hospitable hosts, treating their out-of-town guests royally. Said Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry who chaperoned the Tahoe boys and acted as judges during the competition, "It was one of the grandest meets we have ever attended and no effort was spared to keep us entertained and comfortable." On Friday night we attended a free movie, on Saturday night we were guests along with the many other contestants from visiting clubs, at a big dance, and it wouldn't be fair not to mention the marvelous meals, chicken and steak dinners served with all the trimmings. They practically turned the city over to us and then threw away the key. We've never received a more royal welcome anywhere or encountered more gracious hospitality."

In the Class A jumps Sig Ulland of the Mt. Shasta club placed 1st displaying faultless form in a beautiful 171 foot leap; Ted Rex of Mt. Lassen came 2nd and Rolf Wigaard of Auburn, 3rd.

In the Class B jumps Bud Teagarden of Auburn placed 1st and Walter Mandeville of the Tahoe Club, who showed much improvement in form, placed 4th.

The big upset of the day came in Class C jumps when David Reimer of Tahoe took first place, receiving a nice cup; Carl Becholdt Jr. of Tahoe placed 2nd, Art McMurray of Mt. Shasta 3rd, and Junior Henry of Tahoe, 4th.

James Worden of Tahoe, another promising jumper, sprung a big surprise on his teammates by capturing 1st in D jumps, receiving a beautiful all wool sweater, with Oliver Henrikson of Tahoe taking 2nd, little, Bobbie Wetzel of Mt. Shasta placed 3rd and Charles Miner of Tahoe 4th. The latter also made the longest standing jump of the event.

Max Straubhaar of Mt. Shasta, a newcomer just over from Switzerland, took the slalom honors in 27 seconds, with Junior Henry of Tahoe a close second in 28 seconds and Andy Blodger of Auburn 3rd, in 28.8 seconds. Carl Becholdt Jr. and Ted Rex tied for 6th place and James Worden of Tahoe came in 8th.

No down mountain was run due to poor condition of the snow.

One Kay Don Yancey provided considerable amusement for the spectators, (who were not as numerous as they might have been had the weather behaved) by clowning around on the hill on his skis garbed in "swallow tails". But he broke a ski in the midst of his foolishness and had to remain out of Class B jumping event because of it.

Only first place winners in Classes A, B and C divisions received cups the other winners being awarded merchandise gifts.

Miss Kathleen Anderson who attended the meet from Sacramento planning to enter the women's cross country event did not appear in competition as no lady's race was held.

Her brother Jack Anderson accompanied a group of Nevada University boys to Yosemite to enter the winter sports events held there over the week end.

Well, Sunday was February 2nd, legendary "ground hog" day. The poor old fellow must surely have nearly worn his snout out what with the long hard, cold way he had to shovel out, if he did by any chance exert himself to reach the surface of Tahoe's snow crust to take his much publicized squint at the weather. We would like very much to know at just what time he came out into the daylight, for then we could more easily divine the immediate future. If he peeked out on Sunday morning early he was probably greeted by a light, diminishing fall of snow; if he took his observations in the afternoon he most likely encountered sunshine and hurried back into his tunnel at the sight of his shadow for another six week's nap—supposedly predicting a late, cold spring. Either way, we feel sure spring cannot possibly officially arrive at Tahoe much before May.

On Thursday morning last the Southern Pacific stage which runs between Tahoe and Truckee, driven by Gene Bowser, met with an accident near the concrete viaduct east of the Truckee Y. Harry Johanson had just come from Truckee in his car, which had the specially constructed dog trailer attached behind having turned into the old road near the river to reach the movie location by the old dog kennels. The turn must be made at a sharp left angle and Harry's car had made it alright, but the trailer could not and remained protruding out into the highway. He was unhitching the trailer from the car as the stage also coming toward Tahoe, passed under the viaduct and neared the curve, and he declares that he stepped into the road and attempted to flag down Bowser. The latter was accompanied by his wife only, there being no passengers aboard, luckily. He was unable however, to bring the heavy vehicle to a stop in time and in order to avoid a head on collision turned his wheel abruptly to the right, running up a steep snowbank. Even then he would have escaped damage to the stage had not a large boulder been concealed in the snow which literally tore the big motorcar to pieces and threw it back into the highway on its side, breaking all the windows and striking the rear of Harry's trailer a glancing blow as it landed, but fortunately not injuring any of the dogs within. He did, however, lose a generous supply of milk and cream he was bringing into Tahoe residents. No one was hurt and both parties are fully covered by insurance.

Mrs. V. W. Butterfield, mother of a year old child, and Mrs. R. Mitts, mother of a four months old infant, deserted their husbands, homes and babies in Marshfield, Oregon, and hitchhiked their way to the home of one of the girl's uncle, Joe Dupree of Camp Richardson. Arriving in a heavy snow storm on Saturday morning sometime, they were advised by him to return to their homes and husbands. In some manner they made their way as far as English villa at Homewood, where Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mantel took them in and gave them hot drinks and food and allowed them to warm themselves and dry their clothing as they were chilled to the bone. It was here their husbands, trailing them in a car, caught up with them. The quartet then started for Tahoe City with a heavy storm still in progress. They got only as far as Herbert Fleishacker's summer estate, and their car stalled in the deep snow drifts. Ernest Pomin lent them every assistance but the car could not be moved. Night and some 3 feet of fresh snow fell, along with the thermometer which registered 3 below zero. The party remained in their car lighting a small portable gasoline stove to keep them from freezing. During the night the gas burned out and Mitts siphoned gas from the tank of the machine to refill it. During the operation his wife, in an attempt to be helpful, lit a match so that he could see better. An explosion and fire followed. Mitts, not waiting to open the door of the car, evidently kicked the glass out and threw the blazing stove out into the snowdrift, next dragging his wife to safety. With the aid of a blanket and snow he succeeded in putting out the fire in the interior of the car, but not before he had received two badly burned hands. Hanging a blanket over the broken window, the party huddled together in the car until daylight when they decided to try and reach help somewhere. Wading through the blocked highway in snow above their knees they finally reached the V. S. McClatchey estate a mile away where Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson, caretakers, took them in and rendered first aid to the injured man, gave them all dry clothing and warm food and drinks. The girls were hysterical and very nearly frozen, as they were dressed lightly and one of them wore only half socks, and waded through a mile of snow, knee deep. The Fergusons allowed them to remain until Monday morning when the plow had opened up the road and extricated their car. Four other cars were stalled at, or near, Idlewild Saturday night, and Henry's tow car, sent to the rescue also succeeded in becoming stalled. Henry's sent down their big seven passenger Lincoln, which joined in remaining snow bound. All then waited for the plow which came through on Sunday night. As far as could be learned the Oregonians left on Monday morning to return to their babies and homes in the north together.

The Thursday night dinner club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gallinger in the Bettencourt Tract last week enjoying a delicious repast and an evening of cards. Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Weller Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pomin, Misses Lillian and Florence Vernon, Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Simmonds and the Gallingers. Miss Lillian Vernon entertained the group with a reading of one of her essays titled "The Heart of a City" which earned her warm commendation.

Andy Sumpter left Tahoe on Friday last for Loomis where he will remain indefinitely.

Recent guests at the Charles Swarsons were Alice O'Donnella, Al Moore, Douglas Shaw, Lola Moore, Gladys Donnelly and Ray Youngman of San Francisco.

Mrs. Sidney Ehrman and family left San Francisco on Jan. 24th aboard the Steamer President Hoover for a continental tour of Europe from which they will not return before June 4th.

Miss Helen Worden, Tahoe's diminutive new ski queen and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Worden of Sunnyside, received a real surprise recently when there arrived in the mail, not only a very friendly letter from a A. W. Ralph of Sacramento, but a real fur hat with warm ear muffs. Mr. Ralph in his letter, told of acquiring the hat some 30 years ago in the north although it still was as good as new, and declared he had been looking for someone to whom he could give it for a long time. Recently Helen's picture appeared in a Sacramento paper, showing her lovely long natural curls, and immediately the gift problem was solved for Mr. Ralph. Queen Helen has put it away conveniently to wear during Tahoe's most inclement weather.

Chris Nielsen and Mrs. Broach were dinner guests of the James Fergusons on Wednesday night at their home in the Sunnyside district.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Worden and daughter motored to Yuba City over the week end to visit friends, returning home Sunday night.

A petition was circulated about town the last of the week seeking the signatures of residents in an effort to have Harry Johanson, local man living at the Mein estate, appointed to the position of town constable, this office having been recently vacated by Harry Wehrman. The latter won the job at the last election but failed to post specified bonds as required by law. Because of this oversight on his part he now stands to lose a sum approximating $125 which he turned in as expenses to the Placer county supervisors who refused to allow the bill as he was never legally bonded. Wehrman does not care to continue in office and Johanson is deemed by the townsfolk as an able and willing candidate to handle the job, possessing a good education and having served time in the army which makes him familiar with fire arms. Too, he can always get around on his dog team when, and if, Tahoe highways should ever become impassable. The petition was to be considered at the regular monthly meeting of the supervisors which was held on Monday, Feb. 3rd, at Auburn.

Tahoe received a good 30 inches of snow in the latest storm, the depth ranging far deeper in outlying districts. The storm started on Friday night and eased off on Sunday forenoon, with sunshine and shadow taking turn about Sunday afternoon. Monday dawned bright and sunny, but temperatures at night are registering below zero. Traffic was restored to normal by Monday, the plows coming through promptly on Sunday night, a welcome feature of highway service which takes much of the agony out of winter here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson motored to San Francisco where they divided business with pleasure, visiting their daughter, Miss Mildred Watson.

Mrs. John Stevens returned to her Tahoe home on Friday following a visit with friends at Sacramento, where she went to recuperate from a severe cold.

Mrs. Murray Smith who is spending the winter below near Sacramento, was also ill from a cold recently, but is on the mend again at this writing.

Mrs. Eleanor Swanson was hostess on Friday last to members of the literary club at her home in the Sunnyside district. The ladies were treated to a novel "luta-fisk" luncheon which was greatly relished by all. Mrs. C. W. Vernon read the group one of her recent short stories, entered in a current short story contest which should merit a place among the prize winners. Enjoying the day were Mrs. A. M. Anderson, Mrs. Amelia Wehrman, Mrs. James Ferguson, Mrs. C. W. Vernon and the hostess.

Columbia Pictures who plan to take some snow scenes at Tahoe in a new film, the name of which has not yet been released, began invading Tahoe territory on Sunday when the advance vanguard arrived at Brockway. The cast of actors and actresses are not due however, according to latest reports, until around the 6th of February. Bud Richardson will bring in two of his large buses by the way of Placerville for their use and a number of others are hiring out their touring cars and trucks.

NORDEN NEWS

The past storm deposited forty-one inches of new snow on the already hard packed sixty inches of snow bringing the amount on par with past records. The thermometer hovered about ten degrees below zero last Monday and sixteen degrees below at Soda Springs on Tuesday morning. The snow level will not be lessened to any great extent until warmer weather prevails, which is not likely while a clear sky and a light northerner are on the program.

Much inconvenience was experienced by motorists on the highway last week end that invaded the snow fields with improperly equipped cars. Several instances are known where hardships prevailed and assistance was given.

The Tourist Lodge of Norden is well filled with members from the Bay district, who are indulging in the snow sports hereabouts.

Kenneth Lyons of Norden has been confined to his bed with an attack of flu, but is up and around attending to business on part time basis for a few days.

After several days at his home in Ashland, Oregon account of a cold, William Flackus has returned to Norden.

With the books needing attention, Harry Williams newly elected secretary of the M of W Union with headquarters in Sacramento has been in the latter city a couple of days getting them in order.

Homer and Harry Hartley of B & B 3 are in Ashland visiting among relatives and friends.

Alley "Hock" Hoshaw found it necessary to lay off in order to be with his family a few hours owing to delays caused by snow storms.

George Drew who relieved Wm. Flackus as foreman of B & B 3 has returned to Sacramento to carry on in the B & B department.

"Double Aye" Linn and wife spent a pleasant evening at the Thomas

Eversalt home at Tunnel Six last Sunday evening.

It is with regret that the community of Norden and vicinity learned that Halford L. Hackley has bid in a job with the signal shop at Sacramento. Mr. Hackley is changing his position due to his health. On Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Emma Hackley, he left for Sacramento where he will make his future home. Mrs. Hackley will be greatly missed as she is beloved by all in the community. "Hack" as he was affectionately known among his friends has been in Norden for eight years and in that time has made numerous friends. During his stay here he has made many ingenious devices and improvements not only in his own department, but in other departments, and has received recognition from the Southern Pacific Co. "Hack" out-fitted a work shop in the basement of his home and it was a pleasure to inspect this shop. The Hackleys will be greatly missed in this community.

Nolan R. Marion was the successful bidder for the position left vacant by Hackley. Marion is not a new comer to the community and has worked under Hackley for some time so is well fitted to assume the new position. Marion will shortly move his family to Norden to live.

Townsend Club News

Your correspondent had the pleasure of attending the second Congressional District Townsend Club Convention held in the High School Auditorium in Roseville on Sunday afternoon January 26th.

After the election of the Congressional District Board, a mass meeting was held. State Senator Jerrold Seawell was the first speaker. He told of the progress of state and county pensions, but did not commit himself as to whether he was for or against the Townsend Plan. An old colonel of the Boer War spoke next. He refused a microphone, saying he was afraid he would "bust it." His sonorous voice could easily be heard to the farthest corner of the auditorium. He illustrated the Townsend Tax Plan as like many rivers flowing to the sea, where the sun evaporated the water and deposited it again on the mountain tops in the form of rain and snow, to again run back to the sea, the evaporation being the two per cent

Home

It is safe to say that there are few people to whom the thought of home is not dear. It stands for companionship, affection, shelter, a place where one can throw off the cares of the world and pursue one's own bent unhindered. It provides opportunity for mutual consideration, selflessness, and reciprocal respect for the feelings and opinions of others perhaps afforded in no other way.

A home is indeed a sacred trust. There is probably nothing in our human experience whose influence is more formative. The right home atmosphere can do a great deal to offset inimical outside influences. Its training can help to plant integrity and uprightness in the youthful heart. Indeed, there are not many who can shake off in after life the effects of a godly childhood home.

Moreover, the atmosphere of a beautiful home is felt far beyond its own immediate precincts. People are naturally drawn to a household where happiness and harmony reign. Having entered it, they can go their way with new inspiration, mentally refreshed and encouraged, and thus better equipped to deal with their own individual problems. Such a home may truly become as "the shadow of a great rock in a weary land."

Dear as home associations are, however, to those who can constantly share them, they are perhaps still more dear to those who are compelled to pass much or most of their time away from such companionships. Today business conditions apparently demand that a vast number of individuals shall spend many months of the year away from home. Not alone is this the case, but the occupation of many necessitates constant travel, a continual moving from place to place which forbids any settled life. Such a mode of living may tend to become somewhat unsettling, and may even engender a false sense of freedom from certain responsibilities.

No matter what a person's earthly location may be, he who has grasped the fact of his spiritual at-onement with God knows that in reality he is tax taken from the sea of gross transactions. Another speaker said that when he was changing his clothes to go to the convention his wife bemoaned the fact his underwear was all patches. She said, "What will people think if you should get into an accident and have to be disrobed." He said he told her, "They will think I need the Townsend Plan."

Sheridan Downey, the principle speaker of the day prefaced his remarks by lauding the speech of the old colonel from Mt. Shasta, whose name I have forgotten. He said, "The colonel has said he came to this convention unprepared to make a speech, if that be true, I would hate to speak against him when he was prepared and I would also hate to miss such a speech." Downey told of the wonderful spread of the Townsend Plan in the east and of the new champion of the Plan, Gomer Smith of Oklahoma, who is a millionaire fifteen times over. He informed the audience that secretaries were instructed to recall the petitions withheld until after the primary elections and he wished to correct the idea that a presidential candidate would be nominated on a third party ticket. Only when either of the old party candidates would not endorse the Plan, would a third party man be placed in the field. He also stated that only six per cent of the voters had registered to date and that fifty per cent of them had signed petitions for a third party. He excused the absence of Gov. Frank Merriam from the convention, if you have followed the papers you will see he has a bigger job on hand today.

STATE RESIDENTS PAY $25 A YEAR TO GOVERNMENT

SACRAMENTO, Jan 30 —(UP)—Support of federal governmental agencies costs every person in California approximately $25 a year.

This estimate is based on a compilation of federal taxes made by the California state chamber of commerce and showing a total of $151,946,264 in federal levies collected from various sources during the last fiscal year.

As the most substantial source of income, the chamber listed the income tax which netted the federal government a total of $57,469,209 for the year.

Next on the list was manufacturers' excise taxes, which amounted to an estimated $33,275,015.

These levies, which may be considered more or less "painless" to the average consumer, taxed a long series of commodities which included brewer's malt, grape concentrate, lubricating oils, gasoline, tires tubes, auto parts, automobiles and trucks, electricity, matches, toilet preparations, furs, jewelry, radios, phonographs, mechanical refrigerators, sporting goods, firearms, cartridges, cameras, candy, gum, and soft drinks.

Users of alcoholic beverages contributed another $17,091,635 taxes to federal coffers, including more than $6,000,000 for distilled spirits, $1,824,000 for wines and $9,103,463 for malt liquors.

Taxes on tobacco sold in the state always at home, dwelling in "the secret place of the most High," constantly enfolded by the Father's love and care. Furthermore, he realizes that this same love and care also surrounds those who are dear to him, even though many leagues may lie between them, for there can be no actual separation when thought is at one with the understanding of spiritual reality.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has expressed this thought most beautifully in one of her much loved hymns, where in speaking of the ever-presence of infinite Love she writes (Poems, p. 4):

"His habitation high is here, and high,
His arm encircles me, and mine,
and all."

It is impossible to estimate the number of people to whom these lines have brought succor from anxious thought, replacing any troubled sense with reassurance and comfort, when time and space have seemed to separate them from those dear to them. The same arm of tender, omnipotent care enfolding all! Surely such confidence, with its promise of no division, no severance, its assurance of but the one household of God held in His tender care, is worth striving for and attaining!

The effect of realizing that man as the spiritual idea or child of God is always at home in divine consciousness, cannot be overestimated. It supplies a new standard for ethics and morals. It provides a plumb line for righteous thinking and living by which each suggestion or situation can be appraised. It is an impregnable defense against temptation. Moreover, this realization of true manhood engenders genuine self-respect, supplies poise and balance, and imparts a consciousness of dominion over material conditions which can be gained in no other way. The assurance that "His habitation high is here, and high," and that every moment we can mentally abide in this secret place of Love's dwelling and there know the true sense of home, heals all feeling of loneliness or isolation. . . . —The Christian Science Monitor.

for the year amounted to $10,251,560.

The so-called nuisance taxes on such things as theatre admissions, telephone and telegraph messages, bank checks, safe deposit boxes and similar items netted the government approximately $10,000,000.

The total agricultural adjustment taxes amounted to a total of $10,643,535, including $5,566,068 from wheat processing taxes and $2,272,964 from cotton taxes.

Largest Fish Catch Recorded Last Year

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—An all-time record for fish and shellfish catches was established in California last year to make it the most prosperous year for fishermen since 1929.

This is the highlight of a report just completed by the state division of fish and game which estimated that catches landed in California totaled 1,250,000 (B) pounds—an amount which may never again be equaled in the state.

"The big gains are in the species caught for use in canneries and reduction plants," the report said. "Sardines top the list with 823,528, 799 pounds landed at shore plants during the year. This figure is for the calendar year and not for the sardine season."

The estimate did not include the catches delivered to floating reduction plants.

"The mackerel catch delivered to canneries exceeded 153,000,000 pounds. The yellowfin tuna landings were the largest in the history of the state, amounting to 7,867,403 pounds. The bluefin tuna catch of 24,753, 950 pounds also was a record," the report stated.

While no record is possible of the catch of sportsmen, it was indicated by the sale of licenses that the year also was a successful one for anglers and hunters.

Division records show that the sale of angling licenses showed a net increase of $40,126 over the previous year. Other gain included an increase of $63,361 in the sale of hunting licenses; deer tags, $2,023, and market licenses $6,000.

The planting of game fish also kept pace with the increased interest in sports fishing.

"During the year a total of 35,551,193 trout were planted throughout the state. Other plantings included 7,874,943 salmon and 51,326 small mouth black bass," the report revealed.

COUNTY STARTS NEW SURVEY

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—Under the direction of the agricultural commissioner, a survey of fruit and nut acreage has been started in Nevada county.

The survey is a part of a statewide program sponsored by the state department of agriculture and financed by means of the federal works progress administration.

The county direction of the project is entirely in the hands of the county agricultural commissioner, statewide administration being provided by the department of agriculture, through the federal-state crop reporting service, and the state office of the WPA in San Francisco.

Forms have been set up so that previously obtained in the federal agricultural census, but will augment it with valuable information not obtained heretofore, the announcement stated.

"The information to be collected will be valuable to agriculture, in that it will reveal the relationships of various crops, the predominance of certain varieties and provide general information for the benefit of those producing fruit and nut crops throughout the state," the announcement said.

In requesting the cooperation of growers with the enumerators it was emphasized that use of the information for tax assessment purposes is not permitted and that there is nothing to be gained through failure to cooperate.

Speed in completing the survey is desired so that it may be finished before the harvest season arrives when those on the relief rolls may seek regular employment on farms.

In announcing the survey it also was pointed out that the compiled information will be valuable "to transportation, marketing and various public and private financial agencies."

Traffic Accidents Still Show an Increase

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6—(UP)—Concentrated by the state highway patrol and other organizations during the past year failed in their efforts to reduce traffic accidents and when final figures are compiled they probably will show a new record in the number of deaths and injuries, according to Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles.

Ingels estimated the 1935 death-injury toll reached 49,306, or 1,348 more than the 1934 high record. Preliminary figures placed the traffic deaths at 2,806, compared with 2,805 last year and 2,806 the year before. Final reports, however, may boost the death figure higher.

While new accident records were being set, the highway patrol distributed more warnings and citations, and there were more arrests than ever before. Despite those precautions and widespread publicity given highway laws, accidents and attempts to lower the fatalities, automobiles continued colliding with other machines or stationary objects, plunging into ditches and ravines, bowling over pedestrians and otherwise running up a new record.

Ingels believed accidents would diminish if the state could afford to double the size of the highway patrol.

"If we had enough officers to distribute in such manner that motorists practically always would be conscious of their presence, there would be less speeding and reckless driving and fewer accidents," he said. "Crashes seldom occur when patrolmen are in sight."

Heavy patrol of the main highways would not be enough, officials believe, because a good portion of bad accidents occur on country roads, and on city streets.

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, February 9, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "The Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (I Cor. 2: 10). Other Bible citations will include: "For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (I Cor. 2: 11-12).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The suppositional antipode of divine Spirit is the so-called human soul or spirit, in other words the five senses,—the flesh that warreth against Spirit. These so-called material senses must yield to the infinite Spirit, named God" (p. 200).

SCHOOL BONDS ARE BOUGHT QUICKLY

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—Bonds of Sacramento schools evidently rate high in investment circles, county supervisors stated in announcing sale of the recently voted $410,000 issue to a San Francisco syndicate.

Another school issue, voted at the same time—$271,000 for junior college expansion—commanded 2 3/4 per cent interest.

DONNER THEATRE PROGRAM FOR WEEK

Merciless gangsters prove no match for the savage bravery of a girl fighting for the things she loves most in 20th Century's "Show Them No Mercy!" which comes Saturday to the Donner Theatre.

Produced under the personal supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck, the thrilling anti-crime picture features Rochelle Hudson as its heroine, with Cesar Romero, Bruce Cabot and Edward Norris in the supporting cast.

Miss Hudson first encounters the gangsters when she and her husband stumble into their hideaway to seek shelter from rain.

The story leads them through a series of nerve-scraping adventures until, in the climax, she takes matters in her own hands to provide a startling conclusion to a breath-taking story.

George Marshall directed "Show Them No Mercy!"

'49ers 'SECEDED' FROM UNION

SAN FRANCISCO—Stories more notable for their color than their accuracy seem a perennial by-product of gold mining. Today they come almost as plentifully as in the days of '49 from the camps of California and Nevada, to be scrutinized, questioned and usually discredited by the discerning editor.

This one, however, is vouched for by no less an authority than the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, which contemplates building a power line from Grass Valley to a pioneer community up in Nevada County known as Rough and Ready, to bring electricity to some 30 scattered dwellings and two ramblings dating from the gold rush; Odd Fellows Hall and the Rough and Ready Hotel.

The power company engineers unearthed these bits concerning the history of Rough and Ready.

The greatest claim of Rough and Ready to distinction, however, lies in the legend that it once seceded from the Union.

It seems that in the spring of 1850, Joe Sweigart was working his claim, when a stranger from Massachusetts made him a "sporting offer" to dig the plot for a day: if he got more than $200 worth of gold, he would give it to Joe; if less, he would keep it.

The bargain was sealed, and the Yankee went to work. In a few hours he had secured $180 worth of gold, so he laid off work and kept the gold. It seems there had been no stipulation as to how many hours he should work.

Citizens took up the quarrel of their neighbor, and determined to expell the Yankee "slicker" from the community. But for some strange reason, they were halter in their design by the merest scruple: the Yankee, someone pointed out, was after all an American citizen and had not committed crime. It seemed he could not legally be deported.

A spellbinder proposed that they secede, and that they establish a nation of their own, so they could "run Mr. Massachusetts out of town regardless."

There wasn't a single "no" vote. E. F. Brundage was chosen president; and he appointed a cabinet. A few minutes later he and his Secretary of State called the Yankee out and gave him the order: "On your way."

That excitement over, the secession was practically forgotten until the same "leading citizens" met in June to plan a celebration of July 4 "Why celebrate the Fourth," asked a member of the group, "when you're no longer part of the United States?"

President Brundage called for a vote, and the crowd decided unanimously to dissolve the State of Rough and Ready and return to the Union.

Conditions Must Change As Safety Is At Stake

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—Highway homicides will continue as long as the public condones violators of motor vehicle laws such as "tag fixing" and favoritism, in the opinion of George Sehlmeier, master of the California state grange.

As a part of the campaign for highway safety urged by the California safety council, the head of the agricultural organizations declared against any favoritism and appealed for "equality before the law as well as severity in curbing recklessness, speeding and drunken driving."

"If we are to achieve public consciousness of the seriousness of the highway accident problem, we must stop being complacent about motor vehicle law violations and stop boasting about 'fixing' cases," Sehlmeier said. "It is a short step from complacency to criminal carelessness."

"There must be uniform penalties—severe penalties without regard to the offender's position and influence."

"To make real progress in accident prevention, the wealthy business man must be given no greater consideration in cases of traffic law violations than the clerk in his office or the worker in his factory. And the drivers for great highway freight carriers or bus lines must be required to comply with the same laws as the average motorist, or suffer the same penalties."

"All of us," Sehlmeier continued, "must recognize that the time has come when we can no longer consider motor vehicle law violations as petty offenses. A motor vehicle, carelessly handled, is a deadly weapon and the continuous slaughter on our highways is a reflection on our intelligence and good citizenship."

STATE TO VOTE EARLY

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)—California will cast its electoral college vote in the presidential election this year more than two weeks earlier than has been the custom in previous elections, according to secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

Date for casting the electoral vote has been set as December 14. In previous national elections the vote was recorded on the first Wednesday in January.

The new method of inaugurating the president on January 20 instead of March 4 made the change necessary, Jordan said.

CASHES AN OLD CHECK

Westwood, Feb. 6 —(UP)— Pay checks of the Red River Lumber company apparently are good as long as they hold together.

A check sent to the company recently by Andre Stokke, now of Webster Corners, British Columbia, was honored by the company.

The check, for $11.96, was dated December 12, 1890 and represented payment for 13 days labor.

Many Applicants To Try for Baseball

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)— If the number of applications for tryouts at the spring training camps is any indication, the St. Louis Cardinal baseball chain will have plenty of material from which to start building a team for its newly acquired Sacramento Senators.

Already more than 100 Pacific coast youthful baseball tossers have signified their desire to report at the Fresno training camp. A survey conducted by club officials indicated at least 200 players will be in action there.

An even larger number of young players are expected to assemble at the Riverside training school. Officials predicted about 2,000 players in the state would be inspected during the spring months.

"We are certain to get five or ten good ones out of that number, one of the club officials remarked.

Some Folks Never Learn

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)— Experience may teach some persons, but not W. B. Jones of Sacramento. Jones had been away from his cell only a few minutes after completing a four months' sentence for petty theft when he was returned.

The prisoner was arrested when an officer found him attempting to sell a blanket which had been taken from the county jail.

The second sentence was for six months.

Quarantine Inspectors Could Win Many Bets

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6 —(UP)— Probably it's a good thing that inspectors at the state quarantine inspection stations don't bet.

Recently a motorist from Texas was stopped at the Blythe border station and became indignant when it was explained an inspection of her car was necessary, according to department of agriculture records.

"I'll pay you $10 for every leaf of a plant you find in my baggage," she said.

The officials found some 51 leaves as well as several fine samples of the cotton boll weevil and other insect pests.

Persons with only two per cent vision are now able to read newspapers with the aid of a new lens made by Dr. Feinbloom, of Columbia university.
